Boerse Stuttgart Digital partners with Profidata to grant its institutional clients first-time ever access to trading and custody of crypto assets

- For the first time, institutional clients of Profidata shall gain access to easy, seamless and fully regulated crypto asset trading through Boerse Stuttgart Digital's infrastructure
- This cooperation involves the solutions of Boerse Stuttgart Digital's integrated portfolio: institutional brokerage and custody
- Profidata manages a total portfolio of +4.5 trillion euros for its clients with its investment management solution XENTIS

Boerse Stuttgart Digital, the leading infrastructure provider in crypto and digital business among European exchange groups, announces its partnership with Profidata – a primary provider of software and SaaS solutions for investment and wealth management. By integrating the institutional brokerage and custody solutions of Boerse Stuttgart Digital, more than 40 institutional clients of Profidata can gain access to easy, reliable, and fully regulated trading and custody of crypto assets for the first time ever.

The partnership between Profidata and Boerse Stuttgart Digital marks another significant milestone in the widespread adoption of crypto assets. The brokerage solution from Boerse Stuttgart Digital will be integrated into Profidata's investment management software solution XENTIS, through an API interface in their order management systems.

Joaquín Sastre Ibañez, Chief Revenue Officer of Boerse Stuttgart Digital: "As Europe's leading infrastructure provider, our mission is to spearhead the mass adoption of crypto assets by providing institutional players such as asset managers, banks, and brokers with high-quality, reliable, and fully regulated solutions. We are delighted to partner with Profidata, a respected international provider of top-notch software solutions to some of Europe's largest institutional investors. Together, we embark on a journey to reshape the financial landscape, paving the way for investors to enter the realm of crypto assets."

Roger Wildi, CEO of Profidata adds: "By partnering with Boerse Stuttgart Digital, we offer our institutional clients an opportunity to diversify their portfolios with crypto assets for the first time. This initiative adds value to our clients' business model, by simplifying and securing participation of their customers in the crypto asset markets."
